Category Intelligence

Description:

Sotera Defense Solutions seeks mid-level all-source intelligence analysts responsible for reviewing Department of Defense (DoD) datasets and nominating Known or Suspected Terrorists (KST) to the national watchlisting system, including the No Fly and Selectee lists used to screen air travelers. Proficient in mining government databases for relevant derogatory, biographical, and biometric information. Synthesizes disparate, ambiguous, and sometimes contradictory data from a variety of sources. Understands U.S. government policies and procedures for ensuring that KSTs do not enter the United States. Applies broad concepts, guidance, and criteria to specific situations to arrive at appropriate analytical judgments. Understands regional naming conventions, transliteration issues, and other nuances of identity intelligence. Maintains knowledge of terrorist networks in an assigned area of responsibility, including key personalities and tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTP). Balances depth of analysis and speed of production in developing cogent all-source watchlist nominations for dissemination to the Intelligence Community. Accurately conveys salient information within a standardized report format. Works in a small team to meet and exceed production targets while identifying and sharing process improvements whenever possible.

The primary work location is Reston, VA. This position does not deploy. Travel opportunities are limited and no travel is required. Work hours are standard with the potential for flex time privileges

Requirements:

- * At least four (4) years of intelligence-related experience, including at least one (1) year of counterterrorism experience; all-source or human intelligence background preferred. Deployed experience or other regional expertise is a plus.
- * Willingness to take a counterintelligence polygraph exam.
- * Excellent research and writing skills, including outstanding attention to detail.
- * Flexibility to thrive in an evolving field with evolving technological capabilities.
- * Team-first attitude and strong customer service focus.
- * Candidates must possess an active TS/SCI security clearance

This position is contingent upon contract award.
